

PHILIPSBURG
HIGH SCHOOL

A school door opens to new adventures for the student, guides him from one field of knowledge and activity to another, and finally opens outward revealing the world of today.

The MOUNTAINEER

A record of our High School days in picture and print as seen through the portals of the Philipsburg High School, Philipsburg, Pa.

Dedication

We, the Seniors of 1942, in appreciation of his devout consideration and magnanimous work, do dedicate this yearbook to Millard S. Hancock, the Principal of the High School. His tireless devotion and energetic participation in scholastic affairs have earned him this citation.

We extend our heartiest wishes in the hope for a prolonged successful future for him.

THROUGH The Portals . . .

Three years ago we entered through these portals into the halls of Philipsburg Senior High School, then new and strange to us. There were soon formed treasured friendships with teachers and classmates, and doors were opened to new fields of knowledge and activity. Our acquaintance with the masters of thought gave us the ability to think their thoughts after them. Scientists revealed to us the results of their research and invention. Genuine acquaintance was made with the great, living and dead. Beyond these portals was also found enjoyment in various clubs, sports, and musical organizations. Here our souls and our minds were made receptive and rich.

May we always remember our High School days with pleasure and speak of them with praise. When in future years we reflect upon our school, the Mountaineer will provide a doorway to these happy memories.

IN MEMORIAM

ROBERT CARL RICHARDS

Upon the scroll of memory whereon is written the names of those whom Philipsburg High School delights to honor, we now engrave the name of Carl Richards. Death is always an occasion of sorrow when it takes from us a young person of promise. None can predict the contribution he would have made to community life but there is a certainty that he was endowed with native ability that warranted the prediction that he would have had a successful career. In his death by drowning on July 2, 1941, our class suffered a loss still deeply felt. The remembrance of him will become a lasting memorial.

Senior Class History

We, the class of 1942, entered Philipsburg High School in 1938. Our activities that year consisted of parties and assembly programs. Our class officers were:

President	Preston Peightal
Vice President	Warren Moore
Secretary	Joseph Fitzgibbon
Treasurer	Donald Stine

In the fall of 1939 we entered Senior High, proud to call ourselves Sophomores. Our participation in sports was very prominent in the success of the various teams of the school. Having many students of dramatic ability in this class, we presented our first play entitled "Aunt Tillie Goes To Town", directed by Mrs. Marcia Westpfahl. The officers for our Sophomore year were:

President	Helen Claire Mattern
Vice President	Joseph Fitzgibbon
Secretary	Bernice Morgan
Treasurer	Helen Bezilla

In 1940 we became happy Juniors. This year was very important for we received our class rings and pins, which we are proud to own and display. Our boys proved to be great in football, baseball, basketball, and wrestling. Orations were delivered by six members of our class in assembly at the annual D. A. R. Oratorical Contest March 28. As our play for this year we presented "Headed for Eden", directed by Miss Marie George. The following classmates were elected as our officers for the Junior year:

President	Joseph Fitzgibbon
Vice President	Helen Bezilla
Secretary	Mary Lou Frank
Treasurer	Harriet Hewitt

The fall of 1941 marked the beginning of a very busy year, for we were then dignified Seniors. The highlights of this memorable year were our trip to Washington in February and the Junior-Senior Prom. As our last participation in dramatics, we presented the play, "June Mad", directed by Miss Marie George. Graduation exercises on June 4 climaxed the history of the class of 1942. Our officers for the Senior year were:

President	Preston Peightal
Vice President	Richard Knepp
Secretary	John Richards
Treasurer	Ernest Black

Senior Class Prophecy

Miss Miller, teacher at Philipsburg High School for the past fifteen years had at last attained her ambition—she was going on a summer vacation tour through North America.

On June 6, 1952, a farewell banquet was held in honor of Miss Miller at the Snazzy Hotel owned by Ernie Black and managed by Jack Eaton. There were many celebrities present, among them were: Bill Hrenko, Mayor of Philipsburg; Dick Hughes, Chief of Police; John Barnes, President of the Chamber of Commerce; Bob Matson, announcer for the Philipsburg broadcasting station, PHS; and Joe Fitzgibbon, the local football coach. The toastmaster, Albert Ziff, called on each for a speech. A delicious banquet was served and then the guests bade Miss Miller "goodbye."

At last she was on her way! Her first important stop was at Washington. As she stepped from the train she was greeted by Senator Harry Townsend, a member of the class of '42, accompanied by his secretary, Sylvia Spitzer. Miss Miller was taken to lunch at the Blue Plaza. To her surprise, she discovered that the head waitress was Marie Bush. A couple rushed up to greet her. She recognized them at once. They were Jim Herrington and Alice Richards, who were now happily married. Time passed all too quickly, and again it was train time.

Next stop, Annapolis! While viewing the grounds of the naval academy, Miss Miller met Dick Knepp, now a navy captain who is teaching naval tactics to the midshipmen. Dick took her around the campus and again she met an old friend, Don Stine, Physical Ed. Teacher at the Academy. When asked to sign the Visitor's Book in the office, Miss Miller discovered that Betty Johnston and Alma Stark were secretaries to the head of the school. Again she had to rush off—this time by plane.

Away she zoomed down to Savannah, Georgia. On the plane she discovered that Helen Claire Mattern and Isabelle Beach were the Air Hostesses, and the pilot was Vince Johnson. At Savannah Miss Miller took a taxi to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Johnson. Mrs. Johnson was formerly Lois Hessong. The Johnsons told Miss Miller there was a pleasant surprise in store for her and so there was. That night she was taken to a famous night club, The Swan Club. Upon entering she discovered that the surprise was in the form of several Philipsburgers who were now a part of the famous girls' Swan Band: namely, Jean Hazelton, pianist; Lois Walton, trombonist; Kathleen Young, clarinet player; Helen Bezilla, violinist; Dottie Erickson, coronet player; and Marion Haggard, drummer. After a very happy visit she departed for Miami, Fla.

Before looking around the city, Miss Miller decided to visit a beauty shop. She entered The Glamour Shop and was greeted pleasantly as an old friend by the owners, Catherine Hastings and Helen Harper. After having a shampoo, a finger wave, etc., Miss Miller went on a shopping spree. She entered a smart little dress shop, Simpson's, owned by Marian Copeland, now Mrs. Simpson. Marian asked Miss Miller to attend a style show with her that afternoon. Among those who modeled were: Gail Butterworth, Katheryn Lindsay, Vivian Matson, and Dorothy Trella.

After a visit of a few weeks in Miami she boarded a boat bound for New Orleans. Miss Miller was requested to sit at Captain Alphonse Luciano's table. Entertainment on the boat was provided by a floor show featuring the Rhythm Sisters, Bernice Kester, Pauline Antolik, Margaret Kardolly, and Alzene Lucas. Also featured was the world-famous comedian, H. Motter, and the marvelously trained dancing Trixettes. Some of the members were: Jean Sleigh, Betty Fauth, Irene Cieslar, and Clara Jane Smeal. Miss Miller had pleasant visits with all of her old students.

What an exciting time she had at her next stop, the Painted Desert and Grand Canyon National Park in Arizona. Miss Miller stayed at a dude ranch, The Double Stone, owned by Ronald and Stanley Stone. The professional nurse on the ranch was Betty Muir. On a trip to the Canyon she met Lelia Thompson, now a teacher of Latin at Sweet Briar School in the South, who was also on a vacation. Time marched on and soon she had to move on.

How thrilling to be at last in the great and glamorous city of Hollywood. Here she met Gerald Shimmel and Bill Schram, now famous movie directors. While Bill was showing Miss Miller the sets of the movie he was shooting, she met Milly Lindsay, a famous roller skating star, and the famous Academy Award winner, Eleanor Jones. Eleanor introduced her to Emily Ferguson, Pulitzer Prize winner, who had written the book called "Stardust". Miss Ferguson's secretary was an old classmate, Elaine Albert. Miss Jones told Miss Miller that she would not part with her old schoolmate and present maid, Mary Louise Delige, for ove nor money. Miss Delige's interest was centered on the famous baritone, Gerald Ammons. After an exciting week in Hollywood, Miss Miller departed for the city of divorces.

When she arrived in Reno, she attended a session in court and met Bob Carmack, now a divorce lawyer and the judge, Nick Gianopoulos. While talking to Nick, she discovered that Mary Lou Frank was a famous woman lawyer in the city of Reno.

On the way to Salt Lake City, she passed a huge gas station which was owned by Harold Hamer. She visited the historical spots of the city with Mrs. Beezer O'Neill, the former Eleanor Rowles. Finally, on she went to Chicago.

Here she was met at the airport by Jean Houser, now secretary to Lee Hugg, President of the Waukegan Tire Company. With Jean was Rella Baney, buyer for a leading Chicago department store. Rella introduced Miss Miller to a former pupil, Neal Baney, who is a renowned surgeon. She also met Kathryn Parkes, Pat Nicholas, Josephine Mencer and Lucille Stine, all nurses at the East Side Hospital, Chicago. Preston Peightal greeted Miss Miller as she walked down the hospital corridor. He informed her that he was head chemist in the East Side Hospital. "Pres", a baseball addict, informed Miss Miller that several Philipsburg boys were playing major league ball in Detroit soon. She packed her clothes and resumed her trip.

Arriving in Detroit, she rested and then went to the ball game. On the Detroit Tigers team she found Steve Blasko, Jesse Fenton, and Bill Boyle. In the press box she saw Murray Darke, radio commentator. Looking around she noticed some other familiar faces among the spectators. Among them were: Anna Mae Latz, supervisor of nurses at a Detroit hospital; Bob Long, owner of the Detroit News, a large newspaper; Harriett Hewitt, U. S. woman's tennis champion. After the game Miss Miller met Frances Kyler, who had become a well-known dress designer. When she returned to her hotel she found Lee Perna and Ernest Oelbermann who had just returned from a tour of South America. They told Miss Miller about some of the things they had seen on their trip. Warren Moore was now U. S. Ambassador to Brazil; his secretary was Alice Snyder and his assistant was Ted Zavalydriga. These two told Miss Miller that Charles Lukach owned a large coffee plantation in Brazil. As Miss Miller left the hotel, she recognized the hotel cashier as Edmund Shimmel.

On went Miss Miller to Toronto, Canada. Here she met a group of Americans who were touring Canada. Among this group were: June Yingling, Howard Twoey, Mary Sustrick, Oscar Schnarrs, Loris Ralston, and Beverly Bannon. These former students were now school teachers and were spending their vacation on a tour in Canada. Upon entering a souvenir shop she met Pauline Gallo and Betty Corrigan who were both now happily married to RAF pilots. At last she boarded a boat for Niagara Falls. While viewing the falls she met Anna Mae Vail and her new husband Jess Price. After a short stop here she resumed her journey to New York City.

As she entered the Yorkshire Hotel, she recognized the bell hops as Jack Sawtelle and Paul Runk. The manager of the hotel, Jim Muir, was also familiar to her. When her breakfast was served, she discovered the waitress was Gladys Smith. Occupying the suite next to her was Clifford Smith, famous sax player. Penny gave her a pass to Radio City. Here she met many friends. There was Charles Poorman, now a radio comedian; Lemoin Dixon, singer on the Melody Ranch program; Gordon Twist and Jim Twist, vocalist duet; Bernice Morgan, a leading fashion commentator and Mary Petroff, head of the Children's hour program. She met Quenton Bock, a leading newspaper photographer; Dorothy Beach, society columnist on the New York Sun; Marlene Graffius, an artist's model; and Gerald Bock, personnel manager of a large department store. Bob Laird sold Miss Miller an insurance policy. After a few exhausting weeks in New York, Miss Miller decided to go to Boston.

In Boston she met Ted Demchak, owner of the Boston Cannery Company and his secretary, Edna Beals. As she went on a tour through the cannery, some of the workers she met were Mary Helen Healey, Jim Hoover, Jeanne Hussiere, Gerald Parko, and Leroy Stine. She entered a restaurant to try some famous Boston baked beans and found the proprietor to be Allaryna Crain. While eating she was greeted by Mary Henry, social secretary to Maude Price, a leader of Boston social life. At the Boston Research Laboratory, she met John Richards, now famous for his experiments with cancer. She went to see a play which was being previewed in Boston. Among the cast she found Margaret Sheck and Marshall Shaw. Back stage she discovered Ted Perks and Charles Mills, electricians; Gloria Phillips, make-up artist; and Leona Husler, costume designer. The owner of the theatre was Fred Johnson, while the producer of the play was Bill Tate.

Traveling on to Philadelphia, Miss Miller met Geraldine Martin, Eleanor Yarger, and Bernice Shaw who were all secretaries to big business men. While window shopping, Miss Miller discovered Loretta Almond and Frances Milliron were proprietors of a smart dress shop. On a busy corner she met Albert Ayers, now a policeman. He told Miss Miller that Albert Johnson was now a D. A. As her throat felt dry, Miss Miller entered a drug store for a coke. Smiling at her from behind the soda fountain was Sam Hyde. Among the busy waitresses, Miss Miller discovered Dora Kephart, Loretta Kyler, and Dorothy Hessong.

The time had come for her to return home, so before she boarded her train she stopped to buy a corsage at Bill Bigelow's Flower Shop. As she was boarding the train she met Geraldine Williams and Gladys Morgan stepping off the train. They were on their way to New York. As the train traveled on, Miss Miller began to read the paper. To her surprise she discovered that Juanita Fleck had been picked Queen of the Citrus Fruits in Miami. Later she entered the dining car and met Anna Blasko and Grace Damey who told her they were on their way to a Wholesaler's convention in Pittsburgh. As Miss Miller stepped from the train she noticed several men boarding the train which was bound for Pittsburgh. They were Ernie Kassab, Emerson Goss, Nile Shimmel and Harold Rodgers.

At last her trip was over and she was back home where she was surrounded once again by familiar people and faces.

SENIOR PLAY CAST

Senior Class Play

The Senior Class presented their annual play December 5, 1941 under the direction of Miss Marie George.

The production was entitled "June Mad". This three-act farce dealt with that age old problem—love. Penny Wood had her problems in love, and Chuck Harris his problems with gliders.

The whole play was very capably performed and directed, and proved to be a performance of which the class is very proud.

Junior Class History

In 1939 more than 200 Freshmen timidly entered the halls of P. H. S. determined to make a good name for themselves. With this idea in mind, they showed how great their dramatic ability was in the Freshman class play "Aunt Samanthy Rules the Roost"; how great their athletic skill was in their wonderful playing on the Junior High football and basketball teams; how great their musical talent was by the large number of members they had in the band and orchestra; how great their leadership ability was by electing the following officers:

President	Suzanne Howe
Vice-President	Andrew Pezalski
Secretary	Jane Knapper
Treasurer	John Bock

As Sophomores they became very interested in Senior High activities. Their boys soon became outstanding in wrestling, basketball, football, and baseball. One of the band members was sent to the District Band Conference. An amusing mystery play, "Hobgoblin House", was presented by them. The following students were chosen to represent the class this year:

President	William McCamley
Vice-President	Jane Knapper
Secretary	Mary Griest
Treasurer	Peggy Maclay

When they reached their Junior year, they became more dignified but lost none of their enthusiasm for school activities. They attended school parties. The football teams were made up of many Juniors; the Junior wrestlers won many matches; the basketball team's backbone consisted of Juniors. A comedy in three acts, entitled "Almost Summer", was given by this class. To their delight, they were given the opportunity to enjoy a well-planned trip to Washington. Finally this year came to a grand climax with the excitement of attending the Junior-Senior Prom. The following officers successfully guided them through this year:

President	William McCamley
Vice-President	William Slee
Secretary	Edith Adams
Treasurer	Robert Branstetter

Next year, as upperclassmen, they shall carry on the good old P. H. S. spirit.

On November 14, 1941, a group of ten Sophomores under the direction of Miss Marjorie Walton opened the dramatic season of P. H. S. with their presentation of a farce entitled "Waiting at the Church".

The play centered around the escapades of the Dorset twins, Amy and Fay (Betty Lou Harvey). Amy left Ward Broom

(Harold McCoy) waiting at the church and ran away. When Fay arrived home and found Roy Bunce (Bud Gowland), the boy she ran away from, visiting there, she decided to impersonate her twin. From then on it was one series of mix-ups which proved very entertaining to the large audience. (Due to illness, Bette Cole's part was taken by Patricia Oelbermann.)

Junior Play

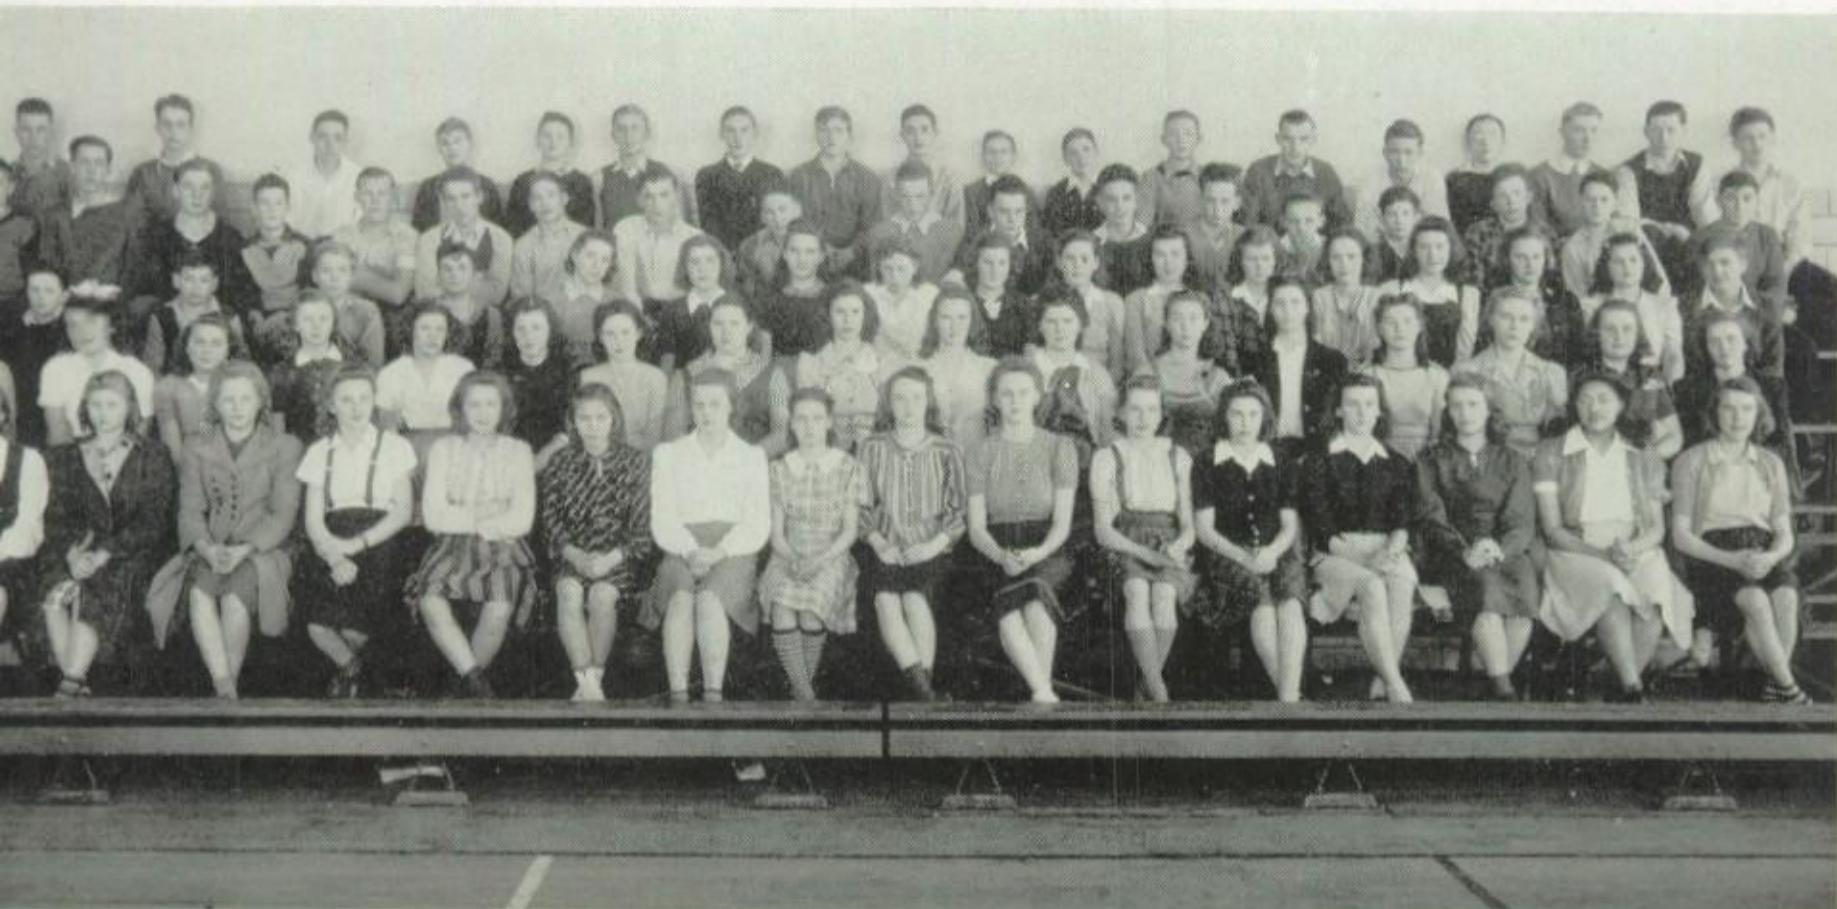

"Almost Summer", a comedy in three acts, was presented by the Junior Class on March 13, 1942. Directed by Mr. Elwood Shade, this hilarious play kept the audience rolling in the aisles. The plot centers around the Jones family, and especially Paul Jones (Tom Mullen), a high school boy, who has many deep troubles. These are (1) how to get a 95 in a history test, (2) how to get in the good graces of the school principal, Mr. Smudgely (Bill Motter), (3) how to keep his girl, Jane (Renee Handova), and (4) how to get out of the tough spots his brother, Junior (Frank Gette) makes for him. His father and mother (Estel Swatsworth and Mildred Beals) can't understand how a son of theirs can't get good marks, while the maid, Anna (Jean Wilkinson), disapproves of men in general and Paul in particular. Paul's sister Mary (Trinkie Griest) and Jane's brother Jack (Ken Dunsmore) go steady, as Paul would like to do. Lilah Thompson (Jane Ann Pearson) pops up and shows Junior not such a misogynist as he pretends to be.

Freshman Class Play

The annual Freshman play, "Mamma's Baby Boy", was presented May 8.

The three act comedy was directed by William J. Skelton and written by Charles George.

The story centers around a young widow, her son of eighteen, a widower, and his daughter of seventeen. Each believes the other to be rich and younger than he admits. The son and daughter supply much comedy by their impersonations of children.

This play marked the close of the dramatic season of Philipsburg High School for the present school year.

Within this portal stand we all. Our aim has been a strong mind in a healthy body. Within our rank have been those whose agility and skill fitted them for competitive sports. They have been triumphant in victory or defeat. Our teams have played to win, but accepted defeat when it came to them as good sportsmen should. Our school is proud of the ability of all our teams.

PHILIPSBURG—33

P. H. S. traveled up the field five times against a small, out-weighed Osceola opponent and scored exactly five times. They couldn't get going the first half but scored seven points. In the second half, the boys scored twenty-six points to clinch the win. First downs, P. H. S.—13, O. M. H. S.—9.

PHILIPSBURG—6

The Mountaineers clinched this game in the first quarter as Peightal plunged over from the one-yard line. Peightal was the outstanding back on the field this night with Anderson a good second. Knepp, P-Burg's big 215 lb. tackle, attempted a field goal from the 18-yard line but it fell short. First downs, P. H. S.—19, Mt. Union—9.

PHILIPSBURG—26

Again, as last year, the boys from P. H. S. proved too much for the boys from down the line. Morris, under a new coach, Chuck Peters, made one threat on a 32-yard pass, Luther to Kobilarcik. On the 15, their attack bogged down. First downs, P. H. S.—11, Morris—4.

PHILIPSBURG—6

Figures do lie! This was the consensus of opinion around town after that mud battle with H. H. S. The Hollidaysburg team was unable to get one first down and only 32 yards from scrimmage. However, they had one big, lucky break and with that our hopes for an undefeated season. P. H. S. had plenty of scoring chances but the wet ball held them down. P. H. S. had 209 yards gained from scrimmage. First downs, P. H. S.—12, H. H. S.—0.

PHILIPSBURG—6

The Mountaineers bounded back into the win column by managing a 6-0 win over the Bisons. The field was very muddy, and because of this, both teams lost many scoring opportunities. McCoy from Clearfield gave many scares to the P. H. S. backers. Dependable Peightal scored the six points. First downs, P. H. S.—10 Clearfield—9.

PHILIPSBURG—0

The Tyrone Eagles tackled another defeat on the Mountaineers at this game. The boys played without the services of one "Whitey" Stine, one of the best backs ever produced at P. H. S.

The Eagles looked fair but good enough to score in the first quarter. This was done by Thomas, a converted lineman from last year's championship team. P-Burg was defeated but never out-fought. First downs, P. H. S.—7, Tyrone—12.

PHILIPSBURG—25

In this game, Preston Peightal really came into his own as he scored all four touchdowns on runs of 71, 12, 36, and 37 yards. State didn't have a chance as Preston put on his one-man show. Knepp kicked the extra point from placement. "Whitey" came into the game late in the fourth quarter to find his passing eye, and thus put P-Burg's chances up another notch for beating DuBois. First downs, P. H. S.—19, State—6.

PHILIPSBURG—0

Just as the game looked like a scoreless tie, the Beavers scored a six-pointed on a pass, Shobert to Resides. Stanley, one of the DuBois crack halfbacks, threw many a scare into P-Burg's backers all evening. This game was won by the team getting more first downs and yards gained from scrimmage. First downs, P. H. S.—2, DuBois—15.

PHILIPSBURG—25

The big PHS linemen had their share of the glory in the Armistice Day game with Cooper Twp. The Mountaineer linemen smashed every threat the Vikings started. Every Johnson pass was knocked down or intercepted. Peightal put the skids to Cooper when he intercepted a Johnson pass and rambled 36 yards for a touchdown. First downs, P. H. S.—11, Cooper—7.

PHILIPSBURG—53

The Mountaineers ran roughshod over the Golden Tide, scoring 53 points to 7 at Riverside Stadium. When it was all over Peightal had scored 4 times; Fauth, twice; Stratton, Yoder, once each. The boys scored 20 points in the first quarter, 6 in the second, 7 in the third, and 20 points in the last quarter. The first downs were uncountable.

PHILIPSBURG—33

In the Turkey Day game, P. H. S. had a victory over Osceola once again. They scored 7 points the first half, and 26 the second half. The boy's razzle-dazzle was working to perfection and the score proved it. Peightal, Stine, Knepp, Hrenko, Johnson, L. Stine, Herrington, Muir, and Rodgers played their last game for Philipsburg High School. First downs were 15 for P-Burg and 8 for Osceola.

The Mountaineers started the season with a "bang" by beating a much-favored State College team. Later in the season, however, "The Little Lions", managed to avenge this defeat by beating our boys on State's floor.

Our team really didn't begin to roll till later in the year. Some people think that if practice had started a little earlier P-Burg would have won the Mountain League.

The boys beat Tyrone, Lewistown, Mount Union, and Hollidaysburg in League games, to end up with a 5-5 average. This year our team had the best League record since 1935. Philipsburg had two men, Oelbermann and Chieppor, among the ten high-scoring boys in the Mountain League.

The following boys received letters: Oelbermann, Long, Schram, Chieppor, Freeman, Gette, Dunsmore, Gearhart, and Gianopoulos, manager.

CLYDE ARBEGAST, Coach

The P-Burg grunt-and-groaners grunted and groaned their way over a hard seven meet schedule to the best, although not a spectacular record in the Blue and White's short three year pull-and-tug history—two wins, four losses, and one tie.

In the Annual District Meet held at State College in February, the local musclemen placed sixth. Forbes, the 133 pound representative, led the Mountaineer point getters by progressing to the finals, where he lost a heart-breaking 3-2 decision to Bartholomew of Lock Haven. Captain Perna at 127, Boyle at 138, and Smeal at 145 had their title hopes pinned in the semi-finals.

Losing only three front line grapplers, Captain Lee Perna at 127, Preston Peightal at 154, and Jim Muir, 165 pound representative, next year looms as "Championship Year" for Coach Clyde Arbegast and his miniature Frank Gotches. Warning, Clearfield Bisons: "Pull in your horns!"

The season's results were:

Baseball Squad

Baseball is a national pastime. Every school tries to support a baseball team. It is a favorite sport with all since both young and old can participate in it. During the 1941 season our school's baseball team had a very successful season. Of the ten league games, they won seven and lost three.

The boys are coached by Alfred Jones. Each year seems to show an improvement over the last so perhaps Philipsburg will soon have a champion baseball squad.

Rifle Club

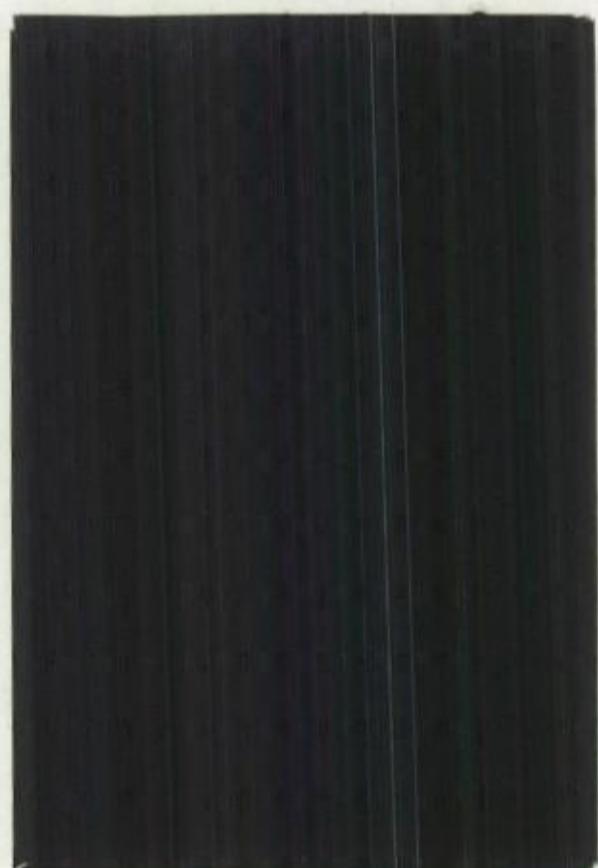

The Rifle Club this year is the largest in its history, being organized in 1938 and since then supervised by Russell Lucas. Its members for the school year of 1941-42 numbered 103. This surprisingly large number was made up of both Junior and Senior High School boys.

This year the team did not shoot with other rifle teams, as previously, because of the shortage of ammunition. The war has greatly curbed the obtaining of shells by clubs to be used only for practice.

However, approximately seventy have received medals given by the National Rifle Association. About twelve members will qualify for the medal given by the Director of Civilian Marksmanship which is directly affiliated with the War Department at Washington. To qualify a rigid test must be passed. The boys have derived much pleasure in competing for these coveted medals.

The Fourth Portal

Doorway to Better Living

Through this doorway are the extra-curricular groups where training was received in leadership and cooperation. The classroom has given us knowledge, and the various clubs have afforded opportunities to think quickly and straight, and to act as responsible individuals in situations found outside the school. Here were offered interests to satisfy the desires of us all.

Senior High School Band

The past year has been a very successful one for the band, which now consists of 64 members. The very capable direction of John E. Manner, plus the musical ability and effort shown by every band member, have made this musical organization one of which any school would be proud.

Besides playing and drilling at the football games, the band also lent its talent to various civic organizations and meetings. On March 27 the band presented its Annual Spring Concert, which was acclaimed a great success.

Four band members were sent to the Pennsylvania School Music Association which was held in Blossburg. Those four members were Helen Claire Mattern, trumpet; Bill McCamley and Lois Walton, trombones; and Barbara Gette, flute.

Junior High Band

The Junior Band, or the White Band, was organized last semester. The purpose of this organization is to train the students so that they can become successful participants in the Senior High Orchestra or the Blue Band. The members have taken part in two of the annual band concerts since its organization last term.

The students who have the privilege of this training deeply appreciate their fine director, Mr. John E. Manner.

High School Orchestra

Our assembly programs and class plays continue to have delightful music furnished by the Philipsburg High School orchestra. Under the direction of John E. Manner, this orchestra shows continued progress in musical ability. Its membership now totals forty-five.

Representatives of the orchestra were once again sent to the Pennsylvania School Music Association district festival, which was held at Blossburg this year. Members representing this organization at the festival were Jean Straitor, Mildred Dromgold, Barbara Gette, and Billy McCamley. Approximately one hundred fifty students participated in this district festival.

a Capella Choir

The A Capella Choir, which was organized last year, has been very progressive this year. The organization is directed by John E. Manner and has twenty-four members.

The choir participated in the Christmas Program in assembly. They sang several selections at the band concert held March 27. This appearance marked the close of their activities for the 1941 to 1942 school term.

The Junior Oratorical Contest

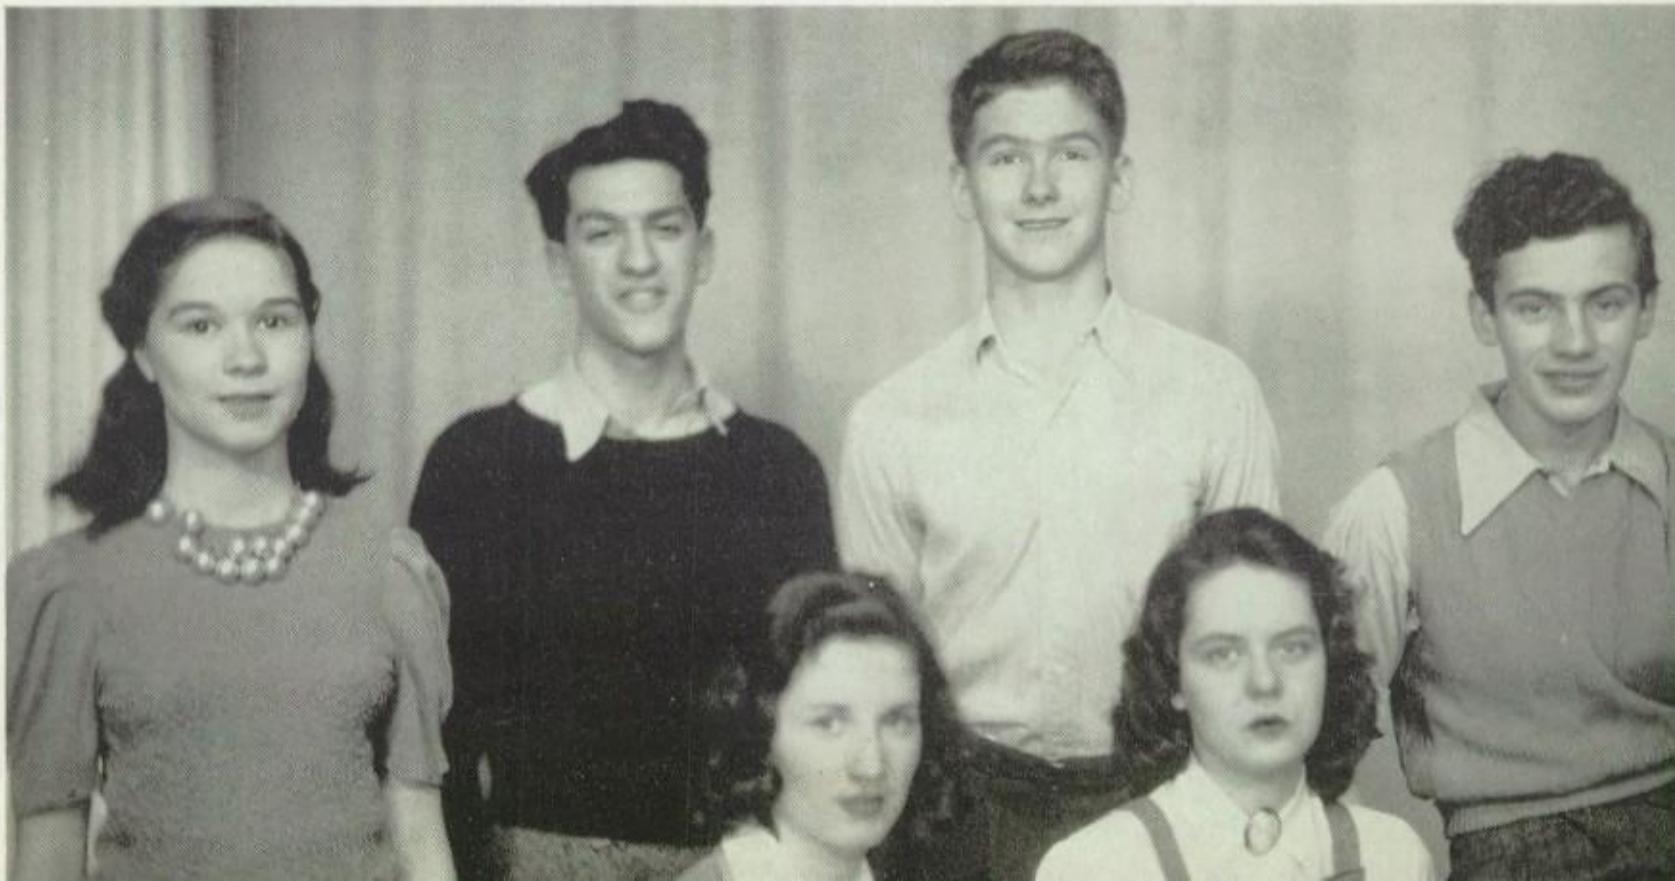

Every year the Daughters of the American Revolution sponsor this contest which requires every member of the Junior Class to write an oration pertaining to the Revolutionary War or some phase of patriotism. These orations are then judged by the members of the faculty, and six are chosen to be delivered orally in assembly. The winner is chosen from the final six by members of the D. A. R. and is presented a medal for the achievement at commencement.

Jane Ann Pearson delivered the winning oration, "The Lost Heritage of Benedict Arnold", and is to be congratulated, as are the other students who also gave splendid orations. The other five participants and the names of their orations are as follows: Herschel Solomon, "Guardians of Liberty"; Suzanne Howe, "Peace Within War"; Dorothy Hamilton, "American Morale"; Charles Balistrere, "Unsung Heroines"; Alfred Chieppor, "Nathan Hale, Soldier and Patriot."

Cheerleaders

The favorite sport of thousands of American students throughout the Fall is football. Philipsburg students are no exception to this rule for they attend the games full force and remain true sport enthusiasts through thick and thin. Their spirit is well exemplified in their rousing cheers which are led by six smart blue-and-white uniformed cheerleaders.

The cheerleaders are under the direction of Miss Edith Meyer, teacher of girl's health and gymnastics.

Second Row—Preston Peightal, Billy Joe McCamley, Estelle Swatsworth, Dick Boyle, John Richards, Madeline Pee, Emily Ferguson, Miss Miller, Adviser.

Third Row—Robert Mitchell, Richard Knepp, Ned Dobson, Stanley Miller, Henry Motter, Ernest Black, Bill Slee, Bob Branstetter.

Student Council

The Student Council this year was composed of a group of enterprising students. This group has worked earnestly all year and has accomplished many things. Under the direction of the Student Council, school parties were planned and held. The Council discussed and remedied various problems which occurred in school, such as lunch room clean-ups, etc. This group started the first student employment file in the school. This file was organized and typed by members of the Council. The Senior-Junior Prom was planned, organized, and held under the direction of various Council committees. The Student Council has accomplished much this year, with the aid of Miss Edna Miller, Student Council Faculty Advisor.

This year the Annual Club and the Newspaper Club of Philipsburg High School have been combined and were supervised by Jeanne C. Myers.

The members of the annual staff are as follows:

Editor-in-Chief	Betty Johnston
Managing Editor	Emily Ferguson
Associate Editor	Jean Houser
Business Manager	Catherine Hastings
Advertising Manager	Gordon Twist
Circulation Editors	Betty Johnston, Dorothy Hessong, and Emily Ferguson
Music Editor	Dolores Feiock
Dramatics Editor	Dorothy Hessong
Sports Editors	Ernie Oelbermann, Preston Peightal, Dick Hughes
Humor Editor	Katheryn Lindsay
Typing Editor	Dorothy Hessong
Historian	Neil Baney

A large share of credit for the success of this yearbook is due the merchants of Philipsburg and the surrounding communities. Through the support of these various merchants, our yearbook becomes a reality to be referred to and cherished by the students of Philipsburg High School in years to come. To these merchants we express our sincere appreciation for their cheerfully rendered services.

We also wish to thank the following concerns who aided us in preparing our annual: The Siegfried Studios, The Erie Engraving Company, and Kurtz Bros.

GOOD LUCK GRADS

High school days are over. Before you lies a troubled world that needs the vigor, the enthusiasm, the sturdiness of youth.

No matter where your path may lead you carry the best wishes from all of us here in The First National—for your happiness, your well-being and a long life of useful service.
